Mattoon Hospital vs. Decatur.

Editor Herald: The Mattoon Commercial gives an account of an effort being put forth to erect a Methodist Episcopal hospital in that city. The institution is to be built by a joint effort of the Illinois Methodist and the southern Illinois Methodist conferences and will cost nearly $200,000.

Now, what we wish to say is that the Methodist conference has wished to help us build a hospital for several years. But, owing to the fact that several of the churches and some of the influential men were opposed to it and talked disconcertingly and those who were working hard wanted to live in peace with all men, we gave up the idea of a deaconess hospital, which means to be governed by deaconesses of the M. E. church, the very best of trained nurses, who will go forth on their labor of love for the needy, sum of $8 per month. But as the work progresses we see our mistake and we feel that we have nothing to back all our effort. If we continue to try it, undenominational and we succeed, there will be no church or class of people looking after its interests, and it will require a constant effort to keep everything working smoothly. All different denominations join in building and supporting these deaconess hospitals, but the M. E. church is responsible for all its care. We ought to take warning from Bloomington, see what it suffered from denationalism. If Mattoon asks for an appropriation from the Illinois conference and it is granted, then we are left, so far as their help is concerned, and if we can hardly build with their help, how can we build without them?

What Decatur needs to do is to have a mass meeting called and have the different churches, with the doctors and everybody to take a conference to help us, with the promise that we will help ourselves to the greatest extent of our ability to build a M. E. hospital.

If we let this opportunity go by it will be years before we shall have another. If we take a vote and send it to Mattoon and ask their help we will at least stand as good a chance as Mattoon. But they can't help both of us at once.

We are the poorest body of us as we have our churches and all our trustees and over one hundred members in our Ladies' Hospital Aid.

The board of directors ought to attend to this matter at once, before conference. If we let this go by we will have to regret it when it is too late. It seems that it is our last chance. Mr. Milkin and others have said of late that they would rather it would be denominational. We hope the public in general will be interested and favor this movement and encourage the ladies who are working so hard, while the board of gentlemen have constantly postponed the work for a more convenient season.

MRS. SUE M. HANAMAN,
Corresponding Secretary of the Ladies' Aid.

EPIDEMIC OF ANTHRAX.

Live Stock Commissioners Find Disease Spreading in Northern Illinois.

At a meeting of the board of live stock commissioners yesterday afternoon the proposition to quarantine Lake County and part of Cook county against anthrax was seriously discussed. It was finally decided not to quarantine the counties, but to use every effort to stamp out the disease, which has already caused the death of one hundred cattle, two horses and one man—Alfred Wolf of Long Grove. Another person in the vicinity of Palatine is affected with the disease, but it is thought he will recover. Both persons were infected by cutting themselves while skinning diseased cattle.

It is the purpose of the board to quarantine all affected herds and to vaccinate those exposed. The disease is in its most aggravated form in the vicinity of Lake Zurich and Palatine.

Although persons have been traveling through the territory claiming to represent the board of health, no such authority has been given by that body.

PURELY ACCIDENTAL.

Result of Coroner's Inquest in Montgomerie Case.

At the coroner's inquest, which was held Tuesday afternoon to inquire into the death of Edwin Montgomery, the jury returned a verdict that his death was due to injuries received by falling from a horse in a collision with a bicycle. The jury exonerated the rider of the bicycle from all blame. It was established by the evidence that Montgomery was riding the horse without saddle or bridle and that the horse was running, and apparently was beyond his control. The rear wheel of the bicycle was the one injured which showed that the horse ran into the wheel.

Painfully Burned.

Mrs. Ed Adams was painfully burned Monday afternoon at her home in Riverside. She was in the basement cleaning some clothing with gasoline in water. The mixture was placed too near the stove and caught fire, severely burning her face and hands. Her hair caught, but she managed to extinguish it and get up stairs, where she fainted. The neighbors who heard her scream came to her assistance and she was put to bed and a physician summoned. Tuesday she was resting easy and no permanent injury is expected.

STRING A BIG ONE

Fine Haces Promised to Decatur For the Coming Week.

FREE-FOR-ALL FAST HORSES

List to Date is Much Larger Than a Year Ago—Will be Swept by the Returns Today.

The entries for the Decatur race meeting beginning Tuesday, September 14th, closed on Monday night, and every mail yesterday brought a large number to Secretary George A. Keller. It is expected that there will be another big batch today and that the outlook is encouraging. The number already received is largely in excess of that of a year ago when we had some of the best racing in the history of the association. With the entries received today the total number will doubtless exceed anything ever before known in Decatur. From all the neighboring towns many inquiries have been received about the meeting and with the low rates offered by the railroads there is certain to be large crowds every day. Season tickets are to be out on sale at Curtis' for the benefit of those who do not want to be bothered buying every day.

Two features of the week will be the 2:10 trot which has taken the place of the free-for-all in Decatur and the free pace. In the latter event some very fast horses have been entered. WM. LINDSEY IN TROUBLE.

Charged By Wife With Brandishing Knives and Making Threats.

Being the less man is not the nicest thing in the world is the conclusion of William Lindsey, and according to the statement of his wife, she does not think much of the woman in general and her husband in particular. They have had troubles that married their domestic relations for some time and finally culminated in the wife filing a petition for divorce. She had left him some time previous and had been making her home with her father, Valentine McWhitney.

On Monday afternoon William, the free man, was out at Parkview park taking in the Labor day celebration when he suddenly espied his wife in a buggy with another man and his jealousy appeared instantly. He walked up to the buggy in which the couple were seated and demanded to know of the stranger by what right he took the liberty of taking other men's wives out driving. The stranger was taken somewhat by surprise, but on being reassured by his companion he stood his ground and replied, telling Lindsey to go along and not make any trouble. But trouble was just the thing the angry husband was looking for at that moment and he did not intend to be cheated of the opportunity to have satisfaction. He pulled out a pair of brass knuckles, it is claimed, and threatened to use the features of the stranger and advanced threateningly toward him. Fearful that there would be a fight the wife asked her companion to drive on and they drove out of the park to the home of her father.

A short time later Lindsey and several other young men appeared at the McWhitney home and he demanded to see his wife. When she appeared he brandished his knuckles again, according to her statement, and threatened to do her violence. She retreated to the house and when her father came in later when he was informed of the trouble, Mr. Lindsey secured a shotgun and started out to look for the disturbers of the peace but failed to find them and consequently no blood was shed.

Tuesday Mrs. Lindsey appeared before Justice McCall and swore out a state warrant, charging her husband with brandishing a pair of brass knuckles, threatening to light and disturbing the peace. The warrant was placed in the hands of Constable Miller, who found Lindsey on the automobile, ice wagon, where he is employed, and placed him under arrest. The prisoner was taken before the court and demanded a trial. A hearing of the case was set for Thursday at 1 o'clock and Lindsey was released on a bond of $100. He denies a good many of the allegations made by his wife.

GROUND IN GOOD SHAPE.

Rains Have Made It Right For Fall Plowing.

The past week has generally been dry, though light showers occurred in a few localities. At the end of the previous week good rains fell at many places in the central and southern districts. These, in addition to the rains which fell earlier, have placed the soil over most of the state in excellent condition both for the growth of vegetation and for plowing. There has been a great general improvement in the appearance of crops. Temperature conditions, also, have generally been favorable to plant growth. In some localities, droughty conditions continue to prevail, and in these vegetation is not in a promising condition. Preparations for fall seeding have progressed rapidly, and some wheat and rye has already been sown. There has been but slight improvement in early corn, but late corn has improved decidedly. The improvement has been greater in the northern district, in some parts of which it is believed a full average crop will be produced. Opinions as to the time when corn will be safe from injury by frost vary. Some early corn will not be safe until Oct. 15, it is believed, however, that a large part of the crop will be safe by Sept. 20 and that but little more will be injured by frost after Sept. 30. The renewed life given the crop by late rains has delayed the time of maturity. Rye corn is generally a good crop, though in some localities it is only fair. Much of the crop has already been harvested. Stock pens are doing well, especially in the southern district, where a large crop will be harvested. Grasses have responded quickly to the favorable conditions of moisture and pastures are now generally very promising. In a few localities they are still poor, and rye is being sown for fall and winter pasture. The prospects for clover and alfalfa are fairly good. The prospects for the potato crop continue poor, but there has been some improvement in the northern district. Some late gardens show favorable prospects. There promises to be a light crop of apples, but the late rains have caused considerable improvement in this fruit in many localities, and in a few localities in the central and southern districts there will be a large yield of excellent fruit. Peaches are generally plentiful, and have increased in size since the rains. In many localities there will be a good crop of grapes. Other fruits promise a fair yield.

YOUNG CASE SETTLED.

Contractors and F. M. Young Get Together—Suit Dismissed.

The much talked of case of F. M. Young vs. the city has at last been settled out of court. The case is of long standing and grew out of the filling of the basement of the Young building with water at the time a sewer was being constructed on East Cero Gordo street. Mr. Young demanded damages to the extent of $60.40 and several times called the attention of the city council to the matter, but that body put the matter off until a short time ago Mr. Young brought suit against the city and the case was set for a hearing in the court of Justice Hane Tuesday.

Annuna and Moffett were the contractors on the sewer and several days ago City Attorney Walters notified them that the city had been sued and that the plaintiff alleged that the damages were caused by negligence on the part of the contractors at the time they were at work on the sewer. Attorney Walters requested that the contractors be present at the trial in their own defense. Before the case was called the contractors and Mr. Young got together and effected a settlement satisfactory to all parties and the case was dismissed by agreement.

A CASE OF EXTRAVAGANCE.

YOU never cut off three-quarters of a new cake of soap and throw it away! Yet you pay twice the price of Ivory Soap for a cake of "tinted" toilet soap less than half as large. Your little cake of toilet soap costs you four times the price of Ivory, for it lasts only half as long and costs twice as much. No money can buy purer or better soap than Ivory. If it came in dainty paper, all scented and colored, you would pay fifteen cents for a very small cake of it.

AUGUST ROHNER HURT.

Former Decatur Man May Lose Sight of Eye as Result of Accident in Chicago.

Mrs. Rohner received word last evening of a serious accident which happened her husband, August Rohner, in Chicago last Friday. At the same time Charles Schenkenberger, a pressman, was badly hurt. The men are employed in the printing establishment of Donohue & Heeneberry. Through the carelessness of other employees there was a break in the machinery. Mr. Rohner was struck in the head and his left eye was knocked out and it is likely that he will lose the sight of it. Schenkenberger was hit in the head and was badly cut up, being rendered unconscious for an hour or more. His condition is yet very serious. Mr. Rohner formerly lived here, but of recent years he has been employed in the printing establishment of Donohue & Heeneberry, where his son John is a pressman.

WILL HE DO IT.

Groom Likely to Pay For Deceit of Divorce to Get His Bride.

An odd thing came to light in the office of the circuit clerk Tuesday but no names were given when the information came to the reporter.

Several years ago a woman secured a divorce from her husband and the court ordered a decree. The woman wants to get married again and it is understood that she has a sweetheart who wants to marry her. They have divorced, however, that the decree of divorce has never been entered of record and she wants to know if she is really free to wed a second time. The story is that she failed to pay her attorney fee and the attorney held up the decree and declines now to have it put on record unless he recovers his fee for securing the divorce. The question which at once arose in the minds of those who heard the story was would the new husband be willing to pay the old attorney fee in order to make certain of his bride.

MALICE CHARGED

Jake Sheets of Long Creek Charged With Spitefully Killing Trees.

DEFENDANT DENIES CHARGE

Several Witnesses Declare That Sheet Made Boasting Confessions That He Was the Guilty Person.

Jake Sheets talked too much, at the witness stand who was on the stand in the county court Tuesday correctly reported conversations which they had with the defendant. Sheets was on trial charged with malicious mischief. The offense alleged was "choking" shade trees to such an extent that they were killed. The trees which were deplored were in front of the residence of John Gustin, in the village of Long Creek. There had been some ill feeling between Gustin and Sheets and that is the motive prompting Sheets. He wanted to get even with Gustin, who was proud of the trees and did not want them removed.

The testimony developed that Jake Sheets was one of the pathmakers of the township. His brother, William Sheets, was one of the highway commissioners who appointed the pathmakers. The trees in question were about 15 feet from the corner in front of Gustin's house and the street or road was 60 feet wide. A pathmaker Sheets concluded that the best interests of the public would be served if the trees were removed. He spoke to his brother, the township commissioner, about it. The commissioner said he didn't care if the trees were removed. The other commissioners would not consent to the removal of the trees. Indeed there was a meeting at which they so decided and gave the pathmaker explicit instructions on that score. A petition was circulated and signed around saying that the trees be removed but the commissioners refused to heed it. Commissioner H. Baker was on the stand to testify in this case and said that Jake Sheets was heard to remark that the commissioners might as well order the trees removed because he would see to it that they did come out, or something to that effect. A. Jones said that Sheets made the statement that the trees would come out.

Gustin was so provoked by the statement that he offered a reward for information that would lead to the arrest of the guilty person. The trees had the appearance of having been killed with a drawing knife, from the ground upward for a distance of three or four feet. A. M. and Ed. Travis said that one day Sheets said he could show the reward. He declared that he had pulled the trees and could pull Gustin.

W. Williams said that one day when he was coming to town with Sheets the latter talked about the skinning of the trees until he was weary with the monotony of the conversation. Sheets on that occasion said he had skinned the trees one night when Gustin was absent from home.

Sheets was on the stand to testify in his own behalf and entered a general denial of all the admissions he was charged with making. His daughter was on the stand to tell that on the night in question her father was home. There were several witnesses on the stand to testify that they did not think that the trees were either mutilated or useful. Some of them under cross examination admitted that the trees were mutilated and might even on occasion be useful.

The case went to the jury at the adjournment hour and Judge Hammet instructed the jury to return a verdict in case they could agree and come into court to let it read this forenoon.

A MAMMOTH STEER.

Champaign County Farmer Owns a Steer of a Gigantic Size.

W. W. Elder, living at about six miles north of this city, has an exhibition at the fair a most famous steer. The animal was purchased in a bunch of 104 head in Bowling Green, Mo. All but this animal were put on the market, and he was kept on account of his very heavy bone, which Mr. Elder thought would some time pay an enormous weight. The animal weighs in the neighborhood of 3000 pounds and stands 6 feet 1 inch high and measures 8 feet 4 inches about the gut. As near as can be traced he is of the shorthorn stock. The animal made the trip of six miles from the farm to the fair grounds in three hours without being crowded. It is wonderful how small an amount of food is consumed by the great beast.

C. F. Harris, the auctioneer, is assisting Mr. Elder in exhibiting him. The steer is but 5 years old and at the age of 8 or 9 the owner expects to have a world beater. Champaign Gazette.

We ask your careful perusal of the following descriptions:

For $5.00

We purchased over 200 of this style garment and it is undoubtedly the best $5.00 jacket that has ever been shown in Decatur. It is made of a nice quality of Kersey in black, color, navy and red, and is lined throughout, including sleeves, with good quality mottored cloth. It has a half-fitting back, is 27 inches long, double breasted, and is ornamented with large buttons and a scalloped collar handomely lined with velvet. You never saw a better jacket for the price.

$5.00

For $7.50

We offer a jacket that is certainly a wonderful bargain, and is in all respect the best thing that we could find in New York to sell at this price. Your own judgment will tell you that it is worth from $10.00 to $12.00 as ordinarily sold, and it could not be sold for less than those figures if it had been bought under regular conditions in small quantities. It is made from the quality Kersey—that most popular cloth of the coming season, and comes in black and the prevailing popular colors; it has a high stiff collar with wide revers, turn back cuffs faced with heavy tailor-stitched satin. Large fancy smoked pearl buttons, back seams stylishly finished down the front all around the bottom with five rows of tailor stitching. It is an unsurpassable bargain.

For $10.00

This is our leading $10.00 coat and in every respect full sustains the manufacturer's claim that it is "The Best $10.00 Coat on Earth." It is made from the finest of Kersey Cloth in bright, rich shades of black, brown, navy and red. It has a wide high collar and fancy revers finished all over with rows of taller stitching; imitation yoke of tailor stitching in the back, turn back cuffs, seams handomely finished with tailor stitched straps; it is made double breasted, has fancy inlaid buttons, and is full lined with the best satin. WHERE THEY ARE CHEAP.

Peaches Down About Centralia Are Worth Only Twenty-Five Cents a Bushel.

Peaches are so plentiful around Centralia and Greenville that people cannot but themselves about picking them.

W. I. Shade was down in that country and saw more peaches than he ever saw before in his life.

Speaking about the matter yesterday, he said:

"I don't see why peaches should sell at such a high price here when they are so cheap down in that country, and less than a hundred miles away. Around and about Centralia and Greenville and other towns in that section of the country, the finest kind of peaches are selling for 25 cents a bushel. The fruit is elegant. Drifting through the country you can see peach trees absolutely loaded down with the weight of the fruit. The ground is covered and it looks like there is more than the people know what to do with. The wonder is that they don't ship them to markets where there is a demand for them."

In a few days Mr. Ober will make another trip to Lincoln to place Ruth Myer in the Old Fellows Orphan Home. He has never visited that last-tion, but says from what he has heard he is expecting to find a model home for the children who have been deprived of their parents.

A CLOSE CALL.

Harry Stimmel had an Unpleasant Experience at the Shellbarger Mill.

Harry Stimmel, one of the employees at the Shellbarger mill, had an unpleasant experience several days ago and the wonder is that he escaped alive. Not only did he do that but he practically escaped unhurt.

Stimmel was working about some shafting which was in motion when his clothing caught and twisted in a second and lightly about the rapidly revolving shaft. One of Stimmel's fellow employees was near and had the presence of mind to disconnect the friction clutch which immediately stopped that part of the machinery in which Stimmel was entangled. The stopping of the machinery dropped Stimmel to the floor stripped of all of his clothing except his shoes and stockings. He had a few bruises but nothing serious.

Explained.

One of the members of Goodman's band, speaking of the recent visit to Louisville, said: "The Goodman band did not come in for much newspaper attention while at the convalescence. However, we gave a concert or two to large audiences, one for instance at the Masonic orphan's home, where there was an assemblage of at least 10,000 people. We wanted to keep out of the newspapers after we heard and saw some of the musical organizations which surrounded the newspaper offices. Honestly, one of the bands that was really busy in the way of music making, was given a wonderful write up after a newspaper once had been given what they called a serenade. When we heard that music and read the notice we concluded we did not want any of that."
